

Futureplex® Flower Essence Combinations

What are Flower Essences?

Flower essences are derivatives of the subtle nature of flowers. This part of a plant, according to the Doctrine of Signatures (a Naturopathic doctrine), addresses symptoms related to the mental/emotional aspects of one's being. Each flower essence relates to a certain nature of our consciousness. Flower essences work on a more subtle level than homeopathic remedies, which act more directly on the physical symptoms of disease. Many people report an immediate but subtly profound shift in their outlook, as well as a long-term response, when using the Futureplex® Flower Combinations.

The effects of flower essences were first discovered in 1934 by an English homeopathic physician and bacteriologist, Edward Bach. Since then, hundreds of new essences with properties similar to the original 38 Bach flowers have been discovered. Flower essences are highly effective and safe to use. The effects of flower essences include changes in attitude, renewed motivation, enhanced personal growth, and expression. However, they cannot substitute for a true change of heart and attitude, which occurs by personal choice and belief. Futureplex® Flower Combinations come in tablet form.

What are the Futureplex® Flower Combinations?

The Futureplex® Flower Combinations are state-of-the-art formulas which combine potentized flower essences and homeopathic ingredients. These unique formulas are the end result of over ten years of research by the renowned European physician, Roy Martina. The intent of these combinations is to play a supportive rather than a curative role. These formulas work by releasing blocked and suppressed energy, the after-effects of emotional stress.

Why are the Futureplex® Combinations Unique?

- Futureplex® formulas are designed to address both psychosomatic and somatopsychic factors.
- They are multiple potencies to offer deeper, longer lasting action.
- They are in tablet form and their action is unlike essences in tincture. For maximum effectiveness, the majority of the bottle must be completed by the patient.
- Compared to essences in tinctures, Futureplex® Combinations are energetically more active due to their hard potentization process.

How To Use Futureplex Flower Combinations:

- Read the descriptions of each Flower Essence combinations below and pick 1 or 2 that feel right.
- Take 2-3 tablets, 4-5 times per day, under your tongue.
- Try not to touch the tablets directly with your fingers. Pour directly from the bottle into the cap, and then into your mouth and hold underneath your tongue until they dissolve.
- Make sure NOT to take this within 20 min before or after consuming anything with mint, peppermint, spearmint, or cinnamon; which includes chewing gum and tooth paste.
